„What A Beautiful Day“

■ Junior champion filly and highest score of the show for Kharrea PGA, here with Frank Spönle and Almuth Ismer.

Slender legs, long, blonde hair, the same first name – but that’s almost all the yearling filly Anna Nicole NWA has in common with former model Anna Nicole Smith. Almost, for the chestnut filly moved like a model to the U2 song “Beautiful Day” through the ring and secured the title of International Junior Reserve Female Champion.

And it certainly was a beautiful day for Ole and Benthe Larsen of Northwest Arabians. The Danish breeders were able to celebrate their first great success with their homebred Anna Nicole NWA (WH Justice x Magnum Silhouette) at the international B show at Ströhen. Both sire and dam of this filly, who was shown by the breeders’ daughter Malene Larsen, are by Magnum Psyche. The dam Magnum Silhouette, formerly a Scottsdale Top Ten winner, is also a granddaughter of Padron on her dam’s side. Small wonder that Anna Nicole NWA has several characteristics in common with her her triple ancestor. The refined filly with the elegant neck was the clear winner of the biggest class of the day with 16 entries. Second place went to another elegant WH Justice daughter F Siraja, out of the straight Egyptian F Samirah, bred by Hansjürgen Friedmann.

■ Senior champion mare Arrowen-Bint-Eternity was bred in Belgium. For movements she received three times 20.

Truly International

Excellent Arabians from 15 countries came before the judges at Ströhen. The three-year-old filly Kharrea PGA (Khadraj NA x Gai Portia), champion of the Las Vegas Arabian Horse Show, had the highest point score of the show with 94.6 and was named Junior Female Champion.

The two-year-old filly winner, Om El Enigma (Al Lahab x Om El Bint Shaina), had the same point score as Anna Nicole NWA with 93, but had to go home without a title.

The junior male championships remained with the yearlings by WH Justice, Aja Justify and Justimagine Joy. In spite of a small mishap at the beginning of the trotting phase, Aja Justify (x Aja Beneja by FS Bengali) showed himself from his best side. This grey colt with equally refined head and legs narrowly beat Justimagine Joy, a chestnut colt out of a Thee Desperado dam who is a lot like his sire in conformation. Third in this high quality class was Dieter Gerbaulet's DG Amir Sadoun.

Strong Mares

The senior female classes were equally as excellent as the junior classes. In the four- and five-year-old mare class, the Gazal Al Shaqab daughter Pieta (x Pilar by Pilot) led right until the end. This five-year-old mare bred at Janow Podlaski and owned by Halsdon Arabians, has a dry, refined head, an elegant neck and rather straight hocks. It was the very last entry that pushed her into second place with just 0.6 points more: Arrowen-Bint-Eternity (by Eternity Ibn Navarrone), a five-year-old mare with a very feminine, motherly expression reminiscent of her maternal granddam Navarrone. Rather to the surprise of the audience, she scored three 20s for movement. Arrowen, who had come from Belgium, also won the mare championship.

The reserve title went to a totally different mare: the South African-bred Sidi Alija Moon (Thee Cyclone x Sidi Bint Malika) has long lines and a finely modelled head and neck. She won the class for six- to eight year-old mares over Persia CC (by Shahir) of Gleannloch breeding. Both mares are straight Egyptian.

The winner of the senior mare class was the fine 15-year-old broodmare Malica

by Masran El Shaklan, tracing in tail female line to the German mare Me-neptah (Nazir x Massulka). Second place went to VP En Vogue, by World Champion Hadidi.

The stallion title went to the winner of the four- and five-year-old stallion class: A.A. Assal (x Asia by MH Weston) is a Laheeb son from Israel with a beautiful face, well-set neck and good topline. Through his dam, he carries Khemosabi, Muscat and Crabbet breeding. The winner of the senior stallion class, Om El Bahreyn from England, was named Reserve Champion.

High Quality C Show

Traditionally the B show at Ströhen is preceded by a C show for German horses only. While the classes were small, the quality was good.

The foal championship went to Reinhard Sax's Millenio, who also won in the B show. He is the first winner by his only three-year-old sire Al Milan, himself champion of the German stallion registration show 2007. The reserve champion foal Esstah (by Massimo Ibn Mirokan) was also bred by Sax. Her dam Esstasha (Essteem x Nascha) is a three quarter sister to the famous Triple Crown winner Essteema (Essteem x Menascha by Menes x Nascha), but not quite in the same class. The winner of the very strong yearling filly class, Kadira (by WH Justice), won the junior female championship. Bred by Frank Spönle and owned by Brigitte Sprave, this elegant bay filly had already won the same title at Frankfurt. In her class, she beat her paternal half sister F Siraja, who resembles her dam, the champion mare FG Samirah (by Ali Valentino). The two-year-old Ekstern daughter BK Eksterna was named Reserve Junior Female Champion. She is out of Cza-Cza by Kilimandscharo, who is the dam of the Western performance mare Charissima (see p. xx). The second place winner in this class, Bankura Shah GP, bred and owned by Gerd Wagner, is a daughter of Bankurai Ibn Eahdani, who was champion stallion at Ströhen in 2007. Her dam Vaneska is by Kubinec out of the premium mare Galva. Winner of the three-year-old fillies was Djasira Princess Psytadel. She is bred and owned by Claudia Polte-Welbers, who also bred her dam Dani El Masri (Masri x Dalila II by El Shaklan) of Egyptian-Spanish descent. Second place went to the Al Maraam daughter Mejuta (x Focus Jaleesa), bred by Daniela Brüne and owned by Dieter Gerbaulet.

Good Classes in the C Show

Like Kadira, the yearling colt DG Amir Sadoun repeated his success from Frankfurt and was named Junior Male Champion. Bred by Dieter Gerbault, this Psytadel son is out of the Spanish-bred premium mare and international champion LM Sadunga. The reserve champion, Jason S, was also from the yearling colt class. Bred by Jürgen Schäfer, he is by the premium stallion Major out of Jakarana T (Kubinec x Ansata Fay Jami-la), a younger full sister to the champion mare Kapella T.

The two-year-old colt class was won by the WH Justice son Jenissej out of the premium mare Medusa, bred by Cafr Arabians, over El Spirit, a son of premium stallion El Sid. Bred by Osterhof Stud, he is out of the straight Russian Kubinec daughter Petrushba.

The Egyptian-Russian Taymar (Kyro KA x Tamara IV), bred by Reinhard Sax, won the three-year-old colt class over Safar Nahboy (FS Eternal Flame x Namybia) bred by Hans Pfeiffer. Through his dam, Safar Nahboy is a grandson of the champion stallion Nahbay, whom he resembles a lot.

The elegant, refined MF Helona won the mare championship. This very expressive mare, bred by Dr. Franz Kirschner and owned by Hannelore Bordeaux, was fourth in the B show with 90 points. There were only two mares in her class; the second was FS Mona Lisa (by Shakaar Ibn Sanadiva), bred by Frank Spönle and owned by Brigitte Sprave. This four-year-old chestnut mare is out of Sherruka al Roban, whose sire FS Bengali is a full brother to Shakaar Ibn Sanadiva. Winner of the older mare class and eventual reserve champion was Kenelm Angelina (AS Natsir Apal x Anastacia AA), who had been champion at Frankfurt. Second place went to the already mentioned Esstasha.

Only very few stallions were forward in the senior classes. The championship was awarded to the Psytadel son Khalishah, who showed excellent movements. He is bred by Anton Stöckle and owned by Franz Schmid. His dam Baccara is a double granddaughter of Kubinec, by Koronec out of Karoba.

Reserve Champion was Al Adyad (by Moheeb), a straight Egyptian stallion recently returned from Israel where he was on lease to Ariela Arabians. This nine-year-old was bred by Ursula Moritz and is owned by Monika Wenzel. In his class, he was second to another straight Egyptian, the Al Lahab son DHS Mabrouk, bred by Ferdinand Schwestermann and owned by Volker Wettengl.
